The University of Hawai'i at Hilo Faculty Congress and the College of Continuing Education and Community Service present:

Electronic Media and its impact on the Visual Arts

Wednesday, October 21, 6:30pm to 7:30pm, UH Hilo Campus, UCB 100

Dr. Ippolito will give examples of artists and artwork of the late 20th century and the turn of the new millennium that utilize digital and electronic media. She will discuss recent changes in the international art world, particularly in the visual arts, resulting from creative artists having access to new technologies, including digital media and the Internet.

The Search for New Media
Late 20th Century Art and Technology in Japan

Jean Ippolito
Associate Professor of Art

Dr. Jean M. Ippolito is an Associate Professor and Art Historian at the University of Hawai'i at Hilo. She is an Asian Art specialist and focuses her research on contemporary digital and electronic media art. Jean Ippolito studied for her Ph. D. in the interdisciplinary program of the Advanced Computing Center for the Arts and Design at Ohio State University. Her book, published in 2012 through Common Ground press, is entitled The Search for New Media: Late 20th Century Art and Technology in Japan. It is a monograph that documents the pioneers of digital media art from Japan. Recently, Dr. Ippolito has been researching contemporary artists of China who use digital media in their work, including Xu Bing, Hu Jieming, Miao Xiaochun and others.

For more information, call CCECS at 974-7664
For disability accommodation, call 974-7664 (V), 974-7002 (TTY) by 10/9/15