Required course for Sociology majors and minors!

What type of jobs are out there for sociology majors?

In this course, you'll be exposed to the vast array of career prospects for those with a background in sociology.

We do so by inviting guest speakers from around the island who have established careers related to the social sciences— from attorneys to social workers to applied researchers and more!

In addition to learning from these featured speakers, you will hone your practical professional skills and your resume, so that you are a competitive candidate when you're out on the job hunt.
